

Dear Community Partner,

It is with great respect and enthusiasm that I recommend Dr. Jim Cecy as he expands his teaching and consulting work into the corporate sphere, bringing timeless business wisdom drawn from the ancient literature of the Bible. I have had the privilege of knowing and partnering with Dr. Cecy for decades through his pastoral leadership at Campus Bible Church and his long-standing influence on our ministry network.

Dr. Cecy is a seasoned teacher, author, and community leader whose work has consistently blended practical insight with moral clarity. His ability to distill complex truths into actionable principles has equipped countless individuals to lead with integrity, humility, and purpose. Those same qualities make his new focus on corporate training both timely and deeply relevant in today's business environment.

His background combines theological depth with an understanding of real-world leadership challenges. Through years of mentoring professionals, students, and ministry leaders, Dr. Cecy has demonstrated a rare capacity to communicate ancient truths in ways that strengthen modern organizations. His emphasis on ethical decision-making, human dignity, stewardship, and servant leadership resonates across both faith-based and secular settings.

I am confident that Dr. Cecy's expertise, character, and proven record as an effective communicator will greatly benefit any business or organization seeking to elevate its culture through principles that have stood the test of time.

I wholeheartedly commend Dr. Jim Cecy for your consideration and support in this next chapter of his professional outreach.

Respectfully,
