

To Whom it May Concern,

It gives me great pleasure to recommend to you Dr. James Cecy. Your organization would undoubtedly benefit by working with Dr. Cecy and I highly encourage you to engage him for any upcoming training, conference, leadership seminar, or any other event where you hope to develop the people you serve.

Dr. Cecy and I have been friends for several years and have worked together in different capacities. Our closest collaborations have been on co-leading trips to Israel, Italy, and Greece. During those trips, I have been able to witness firsthand that Dr. Cecy is an effective and powerful communicator. Even though he has been teaching for many years, he is always studying, asking questions, and growing in his ability to pour into others. His personality puts people at ease and his ability to communicate is clearly second to none.

Beyond Dr. Cecy's abilities as a gifted speaker, it is his desire and commitment to connect with people on a personal level that makes him so effective. When I first met Dr. Cecy it was at an event where he was the guest speaker. As much as I enjoyed his teaching, it was the personal conversations we had with during that conference, where he gave me time he was under no obligation to give, that truly had a lasting impact. I know that if you have Dr. Cecy work with your organization, there will be many people who will benefit from that same one-on-one connection, just as I did.

Thank you for allowing me to recommend Dr. James Cecy. If you have any questions, please contact me at your convenience.

Blessings!
