

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

It is a joy and honor to recommend Dr. Jim Cecy, a faithful and passionate minister of the Gospel!

Dr. Cecy serves with a riveting energy and a deep commitment to Christ. I have seen him counsel individuals tirelessly and preach with conviction and compassion—whether speaking to youth, pastors, or believers in various countries. His ministry reaches across the globe through conferences, personal mentoring, and his many written resources.

Dr. Cecy's life reflects a sincere love for the Lord Jesus and His Word. He devotes himself to regular study and personal devotion, cherishes expository preaching, and consistently encourages fellow pastors. His concern for the human soul is evident in his desire to see believers walk in purity, be restored by grace when they fall, and grow in their daily fellowship with Christ.

I had the privilege of translating two of his books into Romanian—The Purity War and Anger: The Worm in My Apple. Working on these projects, I was deeply impressed by his practical application of biblical truth, his personal transparency, and the honest examples drawn from his own walk with the Lord. These qualities reveal a shepherd's heart, a life shaped by the Gospel, and a huge sense of humor!

Even with decades of ministry, Dr. Cecy continues to learn, grow, and encourage others to do the same. His humility, passion, and integrity make him a blessing to every church and ministry he serves. I pray that God will make his next phase of ministry one of abundant fruitfulness, and I pray also that he will finish well! I recommend him wholeheartedly and thank God for his faithful testimony.

In Christ,

Daniel Suciu, PhD, Romanian pastor
